The Evening's Etiquette

Be cheerful and pleasant to everyone.

Noisy talking and boisterous laughter are contrary to a country dance especially when the caller calls the steps.

Gentlemen, be sociable, dance with others as to dance two or more dances with the same lady could be considered an engagement!

Formal evening dress is most desirable.

Always wear gloves, Regimentals most welcome.

Do not wear hats on the dance floor and Gentlemen, keep coats on.

Turn off mobile phones!

Ladies do not ask gentlemen to dance and it is also considered terribly rude to refuse a dance and then stand up with another.

Gentlemen at the end of the dance take the lady back to their requested place, then give a little bow and say thank you.
